A New Program on Negotiating Like a Pro

Advanced Negotiation & Settlement Techniques

The ability to effectively negotiate and settle your clients' claims and disputes is the single most important skill a litigator must master. This all new program, led by Santa Ana attorney and author Phillip J. Kolczynski, will feature highly experienced litigators sharing and demonstrating their methods for negotiating and settling claims. They will be joined by dispute resolution professionals who will offer their insights on effective settlement tactics in both judicially supervised settlement negotiations and mediations. Attendees will then have an opportunity to practice the tips taught in mock settlement negotiations, and to receive comment and feedback from the panel.

Come learn how to set and achieve your desired negotiation goals; how to implement a negotiation strategy; how to master the negotiation "dance"; what are and are not effective techniques and methods for successful negotiation; and ethical considerations in negotiation.

Some litigation experience required.

Program Highlights

- Understanding effective negotiation techniques and methods
- Setting and implementing a negotiation strategy
- Achieving your negotiation goals
- Mastering the negotiation "dance" steps
- Multi-party negotiations and settlements
- The "do's and don'ts" of mediation and settlement conferences
- Ethical negotiation practices
